

PRETTY GATVOL OF PEOPLE SPINNING BULLSHIT

I decided to publish this letter I wrote to a client, as I am pretty sick of being labled a bad apple by people who dont even know me, never mind the fact that they also never bought anything from me. It all boils down to jeleousy

This story with the guys who seem to like degrading Feather & Fur or africanpredator, these guys are all a click of people who are like little squirrels in a hole, and they all talk, bitch and find stuff to talk about even if that topic is covered 100 different ways already, most are bored and have not much else to do, so will talk down a site and its owners, or just chime in on a conversation they know nothing about.... (most of the time they speak badly of a product because they get nothing from it personally)

They have never met you, or most not even seen or tested a light, cage or call we make, BUT will just talk for the sake of hearing his voice in writing on a forum and getting a joy from other squirrels who club in so to speak, most times its the same people answering each other, the more intellegent ones dont bother with such unethical behaviour from forum members.

I can tell you this, although these heroes like to spit garbage about us, on the quiet ALL OF THEM will go or have gone to my website to look around, I can tell you that for a fact.

The one squirrel even commented about us having nice photos so how does he know that if he is so anti my site – simple, its because he goes and looks around the site, steals with his eyes and learns things not shown on DVD's not made by us.

Another thing is like you say, most calling movies – the marketer shows you SQAT, reveals ZERO, but all the squirrels will not say on forums that he should change the tactics etc and reveal info, NO they all stick together like glue and side with him no matter what, and in the den only the ELITE are permitted, its all a load of bullshit baffles brains, you dont get a better saying than that.

Heres another angle, if Gary sent a pack of new hand calls, about 20 in a bag and sent it to the people in question, and they tried them, they would have all said “Gary is a lekker ou” of daai ou op africanpredator is n smart ou, but because I want nothing to do with that squirrel nest I am an outcast, and just plain bad , what a load of rubbish. (and they dont even know me)

It is like the school days or army days, if you are not one of the MANNE you are an outcast, same here –

As I told the one guy before who spoke down and mentioned our business openly in a bad way when he never bought anything, I told him come here we meet and talk about it man to man, no lawyers, no police, no medical bills just you and me..... he never answered any mails.

It really pisses me that people will knock a business, not know the guy personally and just smear your name because the other squirrels do.

In many years, I have made and sold many lights, hand calls, urines, chairs, cages and NEVER in the past 10 years have I had a single complaint, hell I even ad in extra stuff on most orders free as a thank you, but no, “ stay with guys that know” sure dream on. The only reason that they are so neg is because its a manne thing, a click of squirrels who store nuts between themselves, many of them are totally pissed because we offer free advice openly on the site, many of them pissed because they dont have a successful website and business run by most all MADE IN SOUTH AFRICA products so they have to buy imported calls as they cant make their own, so a lot of things is the reason why they down talk african predator. Jeleousy is a bad thing, and no matter what I will say on a site it will be wrong, funny I dont see ANY other website in SA that will offer what I can in equipment or information, not to talk of the size of it, BUT yes I forgot “ the photos are lekker ne!”.

Another thing I can tell you is a lot of my info is used on other courses given throughout the conservation sector in SA, “although the things I mention are so bad on it”

I dont see anybody else in SA producing stuff locally so we dont have to rely on importing, and I dont mean electronic callers, if those squirrels did they would not have to be so full of anger and would be able to hunt a lot cheaper. If they had to try our latest hand calls they would throw away their imports because simply the new calls of ours are far better than most imports on the market today. BUT again, because Gary dont send them a bunch of free calls, Gary will never be one of the “Manne” – man o man, catch a wake up.

It is easy to be critical, but before you play that card take a look at yourself first.

When the persons in question read this lets hope they finally get it, get a life and find something interesting to talk about instead of spitting out garbage about people you have not even met personally.

I dont go around knocking people openly but if this persists I will have to rethink my gentlemanly ways.

HERE IS A DIRECT CHALLENGE TO ALL YOU SHIT STIRRERS

Seeing I sell such rubbish, supply me the original invoice of the rubbish you bought as below, and I will refund you the money, lets say in the last year, hows that , these calls have been on the market for 9 months, guess what – NOT ONE person will call me, because I can tell you now its all smoke and mirrors, talk, talk, talk.... but call me anyway with your invoice and I will refund your money.

And in case you cant read so well, as you seem to like talking about my calls, if you look on my website under the link of advert for the calls it says if you dont like it I will refund your money, open your eyes seeing you can talk so well.

<http://www.africanpredator.com/New%20for%202011%20ois%20a%20variety%20of%20hand%20calls.pdf>

QUOTED: Jackal / LYNX FOOD CALL is also totally made in South Africa by me - again is simulated ivory / bone and makes really great sounds. Again if you don't like it I will refund your money.

So, start calling me with all your complaints, I am getting pretty sick of all the bullshit spat out because of people who are subversive, petty, low self esteem, insecure and the list goes on..... But call me anyway for a full refund.

We are now busy producing a hunter's fitness, workout training DVD for outdoor people and how they can train to get in shape for mid 2011 but well I suppose that will also be rubbish, so don't buy it ne – o I forgot you guys don't have to look at something to pass bad judgment.
