

JAKKALS JAG GEHEIME

Jackal hunting secrets

I am often told and sent mails from guys saying that I give many trade secrets away; well this is my response to you all.

Letting the cat out of the bag so to speak!

Here is how I see it, and I am just talking in general I am not pointing fingers at anybody here.

I have revealed a lot of things on my website, it is full of information, secrets a plenty, I saw on a forum one idiot commented I offer a lot of information but its not always the best – yeh right! Mr Marais! You must wake up as your coffee is cold, show me another website on jackal control that can even come nearly as close to mine, you won't find one anywhere – I challenge you to prove me wrong!

SECRETS;

Generally I share a lot BECAUSE what would it benefit me to not share info, if I never revealed things what would that personally do for me, it isn't going to help me in any way, and after all why not – all the guys who offer courses and don't give it their all, that's his business, why he would do that heavens knows anyway.

Sort of like when I go on courses, I am again asked if I want to shoot a jackal, hell man, again, I am not stressed on who kills the thing as long as what I call you don't miss!

A hunt for me is getting out and enjoying the night, it isn't about blood and guts, I really don't give a shit about who pulls a trigger, it isn't about the killing, if I hunted every night for a year, and killed 10 jackal a night it would make NO difference to the jackal population at all. It would not make a dent in it, so why stress if I want to shoot or not, that's crazy! – But yes I have shot one or two...

However revealing secrets is for me a pretty neat thing as I can help hunters, one guy told me last week, "Ja, I have now worked out that they have this secret when calling but don't tell others, now I know", please my man, catch a wake up, everybody wants to know the answers, but truth be told there is no rule book, it is only how we find things out as we go along.

But for me to hand over secrets, well that's just because I enjoy helping others.

Here is a secret revealed that not tooooooooooo many people knew; now they all do! It is below in 4 parts, go over it carefully.

Enjoy!

Many aspects on calling is simple, most things like PATIENCE, if you call in an area that you know has jackal, but you call for 50 minutes en klap niks, then stop altogether, be dead quiet and wait 20 minutes then call again, by then another jackal will hear your call and he may be lured in to you, so GEDULD MET JAKKALS JAG, it is important just like not overcalling and the other things at these links above!

Give the jackal what he needs to be given to lure him in, give him all he needs and practise the tips mentioned at the above links.

calling!
