

JACKAL / LYNX HUNTING MOON CHART

Here follows a detailed list of moon times for these critters;

Remember that the best times to call these two predators varies a lot and this should be understood first – see here for more info on the two predators and a sound tip-

Jackal are active on a moon night and are best called after darkness till a quarter moon, they are active on quarter moon, cats are also active in moon conditions, BUT best called on dark nights no moon and before bad weather. So, to conquer both these different times, its best to call both predators from about 5 days before new moon till about 7 days after new moon, then you have a week of dark skies and a few moon nights with a small moon.
