

TARGET SPECIFIC PREDATOR CONTROL

Set cameras – note his moving times

Select a good ambush position, total bakkie camouflage

Work out the ranges he works, sit still and be dead quiet

Work out exactly the area you will shoot at

Prepare early that afternoon and wait for his arrival time

Make sure your ambush area allows the predator to cross in front of you offering you a broad side shot

Jackal on the left is the one in the camera photo, killer of Springbuck and sheep, came back after 77 minutes – target specific removal
